Mark & Cheryl Simmons - 1968 Chevrolet Camaro SS

Mark & Cheryl Simmons - 1968 Chevrolet Camaro SS

For me and this car it all started 32 years ago when Cheryl and I got married. She had gotten into an accident years earlier with the first car she ever owned and it was sitting partially disassembled in her fathers shed in a cherry orchard. Her father had started on the repair project, even purchasing a parts car shell, but had gotten busy with other things and the Camaro had been just sitting for a while. Cheryl wanted it finished so with new enthusiasm we took over and little by little while raising three daughters and moving twice we got it back on the road. One of the more amusing incidents while working on it happened in our carport in our current home as I was wiring the speakers in the rear deck from the trunk. It was a typical spring day in the basin with the wind blowing a little and I am laying on my back in the pretty small trunk, for kind of a big guy, when a gust of wind comes up and blows the trunk lid closed. Lucky for me I am not claustrophobic but I was so jammed in there I couldn't get the lock latch to release, so after what seemed like an awfully long time Cheryl finally came out to see where I was. After hearing the noise of me yelling she unlocked the trunk and had quit a little chuckle. All in all it's been fun having the Camaro that I married into. Think I'll keep them both.
